tor is settled. A limited importation will have a very great effect upon revenue from customs, and reduce it below a revenue standard. The money markets will doubtless feel the effects of a reduction in the revenue, a falling off in the government deposits. The four and a half millions of dollars surplus revenue deposited in the half millions of dollars surplus revenue deposited in the banks of the three principal cities, increase their loans and discounts to nearly double that amount, so that there is more capital affoat and more facilities afforded to the speculating classes, than if this surplus remained in the channels from which it was drawn. The surplus in the hands of the government is almost wholly drawn from the commercial classes, who do not receive in return such a proportion of the discounts from the government banks as they are entitled to, or so large a proportion as the stock and merchandise speculators of Wall street and that immediate vicinity. We appex the returns of seven more of the banks of BANES OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

With the meelves?

Given under outh before the Moyer of the City of Philadelphia — have been silicted with the Scrotala for a number of years. It commenced with a Scrotalous ulceration on my side, which ex ended over my back, across my shoulders, until the whole of my back was a running sore. It then extended over my breast, and down my arms, which in many places were ulcerated to the bone. My throat and neck were also affected, a deep running ulcer extending from behind my ear, under my jaw, to my throat. I tri-d Swains's Panaces, razious Syrups of Sarsaphrills, and a I the remedies I could hear of for this disease, without any benefit. I had the advice of many excellent physicians of this city, and neck the lodine, foline of Iroo, and all the best remedies these gentlemen could suggrest, but my disease remained unchecked. I am sensible that words are too leeble to express my miserable situation. In warm weather my sores were very offensive, and I was truls an object of pity. Early last noring it settled upon my lungs, and resulted in a deep-acated Scrofulous Consumption. Ind a violent cough, pain in my breast, fever, night sw. six. great emaciation and prostration of strength. I was fairing so fast, that I gave up all hope of recovery. No remedy that I took would produce the lenat effect upon me, and many of my friends who saw me, said that it was impossible for a man as much diseased as I was ever to recover. As my Cough was so very bad, and my pulmonary disease fast increasing, a friend recommended SCHENCR'S PULMONIC SYRUP for that disease, and after using it some time. I found it was the only remedy that I ever used that had the least beneficial effect upon me. It relieved me of my cough, pains and fever, atopped my night sweats, and attenthered my whole system. LATERY INTELLIGENCE BY THE MAILS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3, 1846 Congress.

The Oregon question was not breached to-day in the Senate: the ten wor steamers being laid up in ordinary for the accommodation of Mr. Westcott, whose health would not permit him to put out to sea to-day. The Senate, we rather think, before they resume the main question of "war or no war," even upon the ten war steamers, (for they, not less than the notice, open up the whole merits of the ques-tion,) are anxious for the House to come to some decision upon the subject. Before the tenth, when the resolution of Mr. Allen for the notice, will be taken up, it is anticipated that the House will have passed upon it. And we now assume, that whatever may be the majority by which the notice will pass the House, even in the most unconditional terms, it be the majority by which the notice will pass the House, even in the most unconditional terms, it cannot pass the Senate without such a qualification, "pending the negotiations" which are to settle the question definitively, as will render it expressly inoperative and inapplicable.

In the House, Mr. Leake, of Va., in a beautiful speech, sustained the positions of his colleagues, Messrs. Bedinger, Pendleton and Bayly, sgainst war, against the immediate notice, if it be unqualified; and in favor of the "wise and masterly isactivity," in preference to a headlong precipitation into hostilities, from which all would be hazarded and nothing gained. Mr. Strong, of N. Y., read a speech upon the ultimatum of 54 40—holding the manuscript in his hand. He might have saved himself the labor, had he only thought of it, by passing over the writing to the Clerk, who by leave of the House, would not only have read it efficiently, but would have thrown in all the gesticulations required to the illustration of the horoscope. Mr. Sawyer, from the northwestern corner of Ohio, followed next, for 54 40, for the notice, and for war. He devoted a considerable portion of his hour to a caustic reprimand of Mr. Bayly, of Virginia, and o the Accomack District. Mr. Sawyer was rather amusing, than convincing or instructive, in his remarks. For an elderly gentleman, he is evidently not far advanced in the science of geography. He compared Virginia to the continent of Rome, and all the other continents of the old country, that had had their day. He conceived that our title was good to the whole island of North America; and that as the very best portion of the Oregon was North of forty-nine, it would be out of all character to surrender it for the sake of peace. He thought it was the duty of this government to hoe out all the foreign weeds on this continent.

Previous to these harangues, Mr. Dromgoole introduced a bill for giving the twelve months notice, with a proviso that such notice shall not interfere to the suspension of negotiations. Mr

Mr. Collamer, after a good deal of opposition, succeeded in getting a resolution through, calling upon the President for the latest correspondence on the Oregon question, between the high contracting parties.

The day, which was very cloudy and Cape Cod like this morning, has cleared up into an April af-

TWENTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

In Senate.

In Senate.

Washington, Feb. 3. 1846.

Several papers from the War Department. Petitions by the two Messrs. Clayton, Messrs. Dix and Dickinson, Yulee, Archer, (seventeen petitions for a change in the naturalization laws.) Cress, Allen, and others.

On motion of Mr. Bright, Mr. Breese was excused from further service on the Committee on Revolutionary Claims, and Mr. Phelps was appointed to the vacancy.

Mr. Calhoun presented the proceedings of the late Memphis Southwestern Convention, in the form of a memorial to Congress, chiefly on the subject of the improvement of the western waters. Mr. Calhoun expressed his dissent to some of the recommendations of the Convention; but in the main point (the improvement of the Mississippi we suppose) he cheerfully concurred. On his motion, the papers were ordered to be printed, and the subject matter of the memorial to be referred to a select committee of five. Committee—Messra. Calhoun, Atchison, Semple, Barrow, and Chalmers.

Various reports from committees.

EXPLORING EXPEDITION.

On motion of Mr. Prance, who briefly explained the great utility and excellence of these volumes, the question of printing 180 copies, extra, of the scientific books of the Exploring Expedition, was referred to the Library Committee.

Navel Committee instructed upon the expediency of building a dry dock at Pensacola.

THE BRIFFING OF THE NATIONS.

Secretary of the Navy instructed to report upon the comparative shipping, warlike and commercial, of the nations of Europe and America.

LIGHTS IN THE DELAWARE.

Secretary of the Treasury instructed to report upon the expediency of requiring vessels navigating the Delaware, to carry lights by night, in order to avoid collision.

On motion of Mr. Bright, the bill for paying over to ware, to carry lights by high, in other to avoid collesion.

On motion of Mr. Bright, the bill for paying over to Texas some fifty odd thousand dollars, was taken up from the table, and on the question to reconsider the vots by which Mr. Evans's amendment of yesterday was agreed to, the vote stood 22 to 22—the casting vote of the President decided that the vote upon the amendment should be reconsidered. The amendment strikes out the whole bill, and inserts a provision, allowing $1,976 for the capture of certain arms by the authorities of the United States, in 1843, of a Texan company, while on the look out for Santa Fe traders. The residue of the indemnity, for certain goods taken out of a Texas custom house, Mr. Evans proposes to refer to the Secretary of the Treasury. The object of the reconsideration is, tom house, Mr. Evans proposes to refer to the Secretary of the Treasury. The object of the reconsideration is, to grant the entire fifty odd thousand dollars, without any such reference to the Treasury Department. Bill lies over.

THE TEN WAR STEAMERS.

On account of the ill health of Mr. Westcott, who has the floor upon this question, the consideration of the bill providing for ten war steamers, was passed aside, And, on motion of Mr. Spriont, who reper sented that a large calendar of business remained unacted upon, the Senate went into executive session.

a large calendar of business remained unacted upon, the Senate went into executive session.

House of Representatives.

Washington, Feb. 3, 1846.

Mr. Black, of S. C., offered some resolutions on Oregon, but they were withdrawn without being acted upon.

Mr. Dromgoole introduced a bill to abrogate the convention with Great Britain, in respect to Oregon, which was read twice, ordered printed, and referred to Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Arhmur, of Mass, offered a resolution, calling on the President for "information as to our relations with Mexico, and particularly whether any part of our army and navy had been ordered to move towards Mexico, and what facts had come to the President's knowledge to justify such orders," and moved a suspension of the rules so that it might be acted upon to day, but the friends of the President objected to it, and two thirds being necessary, the resolution was laid over.

On motion of Mr. McConnell, the House then resolved itself into Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Lexar, of Va., having the floor from yesterday, made a speech on the Virginia platform of politics. He was opposed to the notice, and in favor of masterly inactivity.

Mr. Strong, of New York, followed in a speech, made up mostly of documentary extracts, in favor of the notice, and for Oregon.

Mr. Sawyer, of Mass., followed in a speech, which it is impossible to describe or report. When any of these natural goniuses rise, the House soon discovers something rich in the wind, and crowd around the speaker to eljoy the amusement. He said he belonged to the Ingia Committee—(Laughter) Well to the committee on Ingin Affairs—(Increased laughter)—England had no right to Canada—we took it from the French when we were but colonies—Gen. Jackson and Gen. Scott put the British through their facings—we must root out Canada thistles—did not care about the remonstrance of ship merchants—make 'em fight to defend their shipping. Virginis was great. Now Virginians were degenerate sons of noble sires. (Roars of laughter.)—Accomack was not ver

. Mr. Bell, of Kentucky, took the floor, when the committee rose.

Mr. Colliamen, of Vt. offered a resolution calling for copies of any communications that may have recently passed between this government and Great Britain, relative to Oregon. This, after strong opposition, was carried.

Mr. Holmes, of S. C., introduced e memorial from the Memphis Convention, and moved its reference to the Committee on Commerce, and that it be printed Without taking any action on this, the House adjourned.

Conviction and Se-tence of Floyd, the "Nipper" Thief—Destructive Fire—Fatal Duel—Arrival of the "Drugged" Man—Theatricals—Market—Stock Board, &c.

Albion Floyd, the man whe was arrested a few weeks since, and found in possession of a large amount of jewelry, which was proved to have been stolen from hotels in this city and washington, and had also the overcoat with him of James Watson Webb, Esq., was yesterday brought before the City Court for trial. The offence for which he was arraigned was the robbery of Mr. Hurlbut's room, at Barnum's Hotel, on which he was found guilty and sentenced to seven years imprisonment in the penitentiary. He is a nice, tidy, brisk looking little fellow, of excellent manners and gentlemanly deportment, and evidently one of the most accomplished hotel "nipper" thieves living.

The cotton wadding factory of Mesers. Cook and Taylor, on North Howard street, was destroyed by fire yesterlay morning. Mesers. C. and T. estimate their loss in machinery and stock at $4000, on which there was in insurance in the Franklin office, at Philadelphis, of $1500. The house belonged to Mrs. Fonder, and was fully insured in the same office.

Mr. Joseph Delano was accidentally killed, a day or two since, by falling from the bowsprit of a ship on which he was working in the yard of Mesers. Flannagan and Trimble.

We hear but little more concerning the duel at Bladensburg. Jones and his seconds, who were arrested at
